

Why a Church?

Jesus did not leave us alone.

In short. The Church teaches that Jesus Himself founded the Church, giving His community a structure with the Twelve and Peter as their head.^{1,2} It is the Body of Christ, professed in the Creed as one, holy, catholic and apostolic.^{3,4}

Key points

- Jesus founded a community and chose the Twelve, with Peter as their head.²
- The Church is the Body of Christ, and Christ is its head.⁵
- It is one, holy, catholic and apostolic.⁴
- It is at once holy and always in need of purification.⁶

Try this, this week

- 1. Read Acts 2:42–47. Notice what the first Christians did together.
- 2. Visit a parish once, just to look. Sit at the back. Nobody will ask you to do anything.
- 3. Name the people who passed faith to you. A grandparent, a friend, a teacher.
- 4. Say what hurts, if something does. A good priest will want to hear it.

“I also tell you that you are Peter, and on this rock I will build my assembly, and the gates of Hades will not prevail against it.”

Matthew 16:18, World English Bible

Watch out: what this does not mean

- The Church is not a club of the perfect: all members, including her ministers, must acknowledge that they are sinners.⁶
- Belonging to the Church does not replace a personal relationship with God; the Church teaches that the faithful are to live from the mystery of faith in a vital and personal relationship with the living and true God.¹²

Common questions

Can’t I just follow Jesus on my own?

Video answer: Fr. Mike Schmitz, stoneandincense.com/en/questions/cant-i-just-follow-jesus-on-my-own/

The Church teaches that faith is a personal act, but not an isolated one: “No one can believe alone, just as no one can live alone.”⁷ The Catechism calls believing an ecclesial act, because the Church’s faith precedes, engenders, supports and nourishes our own.⁸

Why does the Church have a Pope?

Video answer: Ascension Presents, stoneandincense.com/en/questions/why-does-the-church-have-a-pope/

The Catechism teaches that the Lord made Simon, whom He named Peter, the “rock” of his Church and gave him the keys.^{9,10} The Pope, Bishop of Rome and Peter’s successor, is the perpetual and visible source and foundation of unity for the bishops and the whole company of the faithful.¹¹

Remember: No one comes to faith alone.
